Point, click, done.

It takes only seconds to clone a website— and no effort to weaponize it.

Generative AI can:

- ✓ Exfiltrate credentials through fake login forms

- ✓ Embed malware in downloadable resources

- ✓ Generate error messages directing users to a fake "support" line

- ✓ Insert JavaScript to steal MFA bypass data, cookies, and more

All an attacker has to do is describe what they want in plain language.

AI will write code for them.

Just imagine the damage to critical infrastructure.

Hackers could hijack real-world systems and disrupt essential services.
