

box

It's here.

State of AI in the Enterprise 2026

96%

of organizations
say AI agents
need access to their company-
specific content

36%

of organizations have connected their agents to trusted content across many use cases

58%

of organizations
expect
headcount to rise
over the next three years

79%

of companies furthest
along the maturity curve expect headcount to rise

of organizations
report having established
or advanced
governance

(up from 24% in 2025)

have formal standards
governing how agents
access company data

A large circular infographic with a blue-to-purple gradient border. The number '79%' is centered in a pink-to-white gradient font. The percentage sign is white.

79%

of organizations emphasize the importance of agents operating “headlessly”

A smaller circular infographic with a blue-to-purple gradient border. The number '68%' is centered in a pink-to-white gradient font. The percentage sign is white.

68%

are concerned about being locked into a single AI provider

Box's State of AI in the Enterprise report

Insights into AI trends, adoption, and best practices

Download report

